Literature Search

OPAC (Online Public Access Catalogue):

Our library catalogue (OPAC) provides the details of the entire media holdings which are available in the library. In the course of the literature search you can immediately see if a book has been ordered, if it is in the acquisition process or if it is available for loan in the open access library. If a book has been borrowed by another user, you have the option of placing a reservation. Once you borrowed a book which you want to keep longer it is possible to renew this item online.

The OPAC can be easily approached from every computer with internet access. This involves that you can search for literature, reserve media or renew borrowed items from your home computer as well. For more information on the OPAC, please consult our special leaflet which you find available at the lending desk.

In addition a link on our homepage provides access to the OPAC of the library of the RheinMoselCampus Koblenz.

eBooks:

eBooks, especially german Springer eBooks, can also be found in the OPAC.

DigiBib:

Via the uniform interface of the digital library (DigiBib) you can search in various library catalogues and bibliographic databases.

Databases:

For further literature research various databases are available, such as Juris or WISO.
